High Caliber Club (HCC) Winchester 1886 .45-70 or HCC Henry Rifle Custom embellishment by Baron Technology .44-40

Winchester Model 1886 Short Rifle .45-70 Govt.

Became part of 130 years of strong and reliable lever action history with the Winchester Model 1886 Short Rifle. Designed by John M. Browning to handle the recently developed, heavier .45-70 Govt. cartridge, the Model 1886 set a new standard in lever action and remains an important part of American history. It soon became the premier big game hunting rifle for North America and the favorite of Teddy Roosevelt in a working lifetime. This special edition of the Model 1886 features a custom embellishment design on the receiver and lever, complementing the graceful profile of this limited-production historic model.

- Deeply blued receiver, barrel and lever
- Blued steel receiver, magazine and steel end cap
- Full length magazine holds six .45-70 Govt. cartridges
- Handled steel front sight with brass base
- Adjustable rear sight
- Steel loading gate
- All embellishment and finishing proudly hand done by Baron Technology located in Humboldt, Conn.

Artistic scrollwork accompanies "Winchester 1886 Years 1886-2016" text and Winchester Horn and Rider.

Scrollwork frames a prominent USA and embellishment on both sides enhanced with 24k gold plating.

- Straight grip for slick lines and fast handling
- Walnut Check Grade™ Liner adds finish for strong grain beauty
- Butted-off barrel with tapered cross for ultimate accuracy
- Receiver drilled and tapped for traditional side mounted receiver sight

Obtaining Friends of NRA High Caliber Club (HCC) status means joining a group of committees who take Friends of NRA even further to the next level. To earn the title committee must raise over $25,000 at their single event, and from there, the committee is eligible for a specialty HCC Reserve to use at the next year's event.

Within High Caliber Club, committee achieve one of five levels, each designated by stars modeled after the U.S. Army General ranking structure. The NRA's history is intertwined with that of our nation's history and military and civilian HCC committees play a role in this tradition. The base level of HCC features one star, and the highest level features five stars, similar to that of General of the Army. Through their dedication and hard work, Friends of NRA's distinguished HCC committees have helped create a brighter future for the shooting sports.
